Air Mail Damaged In Plane Crash Delivered Here

WHAT HAPPENS to air mail when a plane crashes? Sometimes it is completely destroyed, but sometimes it is delivered. Linda Rude has the proof.

Linda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Rude, 24 West South street, has been corresponding with a pen pal in Ireland since she was in Mrs. Locke's English class at Junior high school.

Monday she received an envelope marked "On Her Britannic Majesty's Service," and in the corner was stamped "Salvaged mail, aircraft crash, Prestwick 25-12-54." Inside the envelope was a Christmas greeting from her pen pal, Pat Morton, Bainbridge, County Down, North Ireland. The greeting was not in good condition, had been wet, and the edges were burned. It had been mailed out of Bainbridge Dec. 20, was in a plane crash, was damaged but the address to Linda was legible, and it was forwarded.

MAIL: To The Daily Register office came this letter yesterday: "When I first moved to your fair city I was so impressed by your wonderful churches. Your people, I found, were so friendly and nice. We soon were given to understand it was the wonderful Christian influence and faith that brought forth these beautiful new churches.

"Your churches are necessary but where do your young people spend the other six evenings a week?

"To me it seems important that these fine young people be provided with a Teen Town. Other cities have made them possible by organizations sponsoring such projects."

To the above, we must answer very simply. We've had Teen Towns and they've flopped. The enthusiasm is there at first but it dies out.

I've always been an advocate of a properly supervised Teen Town, but still must disagree a bit that there is nothing to do six nights a week except go to dens of sin.

I don't think I'm showing signs of getting old and crabby when I say that some time can be spent at nights on school lessons.

Then, there are the high school basketball games, good movies, good television programs, that can take up a lot of slack. And unless times have changed more than I realize, church young people still have their parties.

And I'm still not saying that the Teen Town idea is a bad one. It's good. But it's been tried, money has been sunk into the idea, and after the newness wore off it more or less dried up.

Maybe more parties in the homes, at the schools and at the churches is the solution.

HUMOR DEPT.: Husband — I saw Jim Tooley downtown today and he didn't even speak to me. I guess he thinks I'm not his equal.

Wife — Why, that stupid, brainless, conceited, good-for-nothing moron! You certainly are his equal!

Rockefeller Gives $20 Million to Educate Ministers

NEW YORK (AP)—John D. Rockefeller Jr., has given 20 million dollars to a fund to educate Protestant ministers.

The financier and philanthropist presented his latest contribution Tuesday to the Sealantic Fund, which he set up 16 years ago to administer various Rockefeller gifts.

The short, casual note of two sentences said:

"I am giving to your corporation as of this date securities having a present market value of approximately 20 million dollars.

"The purpose of the gift is to strengthen and develop Protestant theological education in this country."

The contribution brings to approximately one billion dollars the various gifts of Rockefeller and his late father, John D. Rockefeller Sr.

Crash Occurs Near Airport At Cincinnati

10 Passengers, Crew Of 3 on Airliner; Two in Other Plane

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—A Trans World Airlines plane and a privately owned DC3 collided and crashed in flames near here today, killing 15 persons.

TWA officials said that 13 persons — 10 passengers and 3 crew members — were aboard its twin-engine Martin 202. The plane had left the Greater Cincinnati Airport about 9 a. m. EST en route to Dayton, Columbus, and Cleveland, Ohio.

The twin-engine DC3 was owned by Castleton Farms, famous Lexington, Ky., harness horse farm. It was en route from Battle Creek, Mich., to pick up the farm owners, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Van Lennep, to take the socially prominent couple to Florida. The pilot, Arthur Werkhaven, and Co-pilot Eddie Anger, were killed.

Kentucky state police detective Robert Gordon said the planes apparently caught fire after the collision and were aflame when they hit the ground, about a mile apart. He said parts of the planes and bodies were scattered over a wide area.

Bounces Into Ravine

The collision was about two miles south of the Greater Cincinnati Airport, which is in Kentucky about 12 miles from Cincinnati. It is in a rural, hilly area.

Howard Crigler, owner of the farm on which the planes crashed, said that the TWA plane hit the top of a hill and bounced into a wooded ravine, leaving a hundred-yard trail of wreckage.

Van Lennep and his wife, the former Mrs. Francis Dodge, operate Castleton Farms and are associated with a number of other business enterprises. He is president of Wolverine Raceway, a harness racing track at Detroit.

TWA confirmed that the 10 passengers and three crew members aboard its plane were killed. The plane was under the command of Capt. J. W. Quinn. The first officer was identified as Robert K. Childress and the hostess as Patricia Ann Stermer.

Castleton Farm said that its plane normally was based at Sturgis, Mich.

TWA said the collision was the company's first fatal accident on its domestic system since Dec. 1, 1944. Since then, the airline said it had carried almost 18 million passengers without a fatal accident.

Sen. Eugene D. Millikin (R-Colo.), chairman of the Senate Republican Conference, said the question of raising congressional salaries was discussed at Tuesday's conference and no opposition was voiced. He said the consensus appeared to be that members of Congress should get raises boosting their salaries in the $22,500 to $25,000 range.

Chairman Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) of the Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee said he favors a 10 per cent pay boost for federal employees, twice what the President recommended. But he said the President should not tie the postal pay hike to an increase in rates.

The President and the Congress deadlocked on this issue previously. Mr. Eisenhower vetoed a bill raising salaries for postal workers without hiking the cost of mailing letters as he had recommended.

John W. Biggers Named Assistant State's Attorney

John W. Biggers, young Harrisburg attorney, was sworn in as the assistant state's attorney of Saline county yesterday afternoon.

Biggers' appointment came 24 hours after K. C. Ronalds assumed the duties of state's attorney. Ronalds received his commission as state's attorney from Gov. William G. Straton Monday afternoon following his appointment Saturday by the Saline County Board of Supervisors to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Glen O. Jones. Jones resigned Dec. 31 to become state senator from the 51st senatorial district, an office to which he was elected in November.

Biggers, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Biggers of this city, was graduated from the University of Illinois College of Law in June. He passed his bar examination and was admitted to the bar during the summer. He is a graduate of Harrisburg Township high school.

Senate Leader Knowland Supports Eisenhower on Postal, Federal Pay Boosts

By United Press

Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland today threw his support behind President Eisenhower's proposal to boost pay of postal workers and raise postage rates to offset the added costs.

The Californian said the Post Office has run four billion dollars in the red since World War II. Carrying this debt is alone costing taxpayers more than 100 million dollars yearly, he said.

To raise the pay of postal workers, as Congress evidently intends to do, without raising postal rates at the same time would boost the annual Post Office deficit to about 500 million, Knowland said.

Knowland's announcement of his position highlighted a quiet day on Capitol Hill, with neither house in session.

There were these other developments:

RESERVES: Sen. Strom Thurmond (D-S.C.) called on President Eisenhower and received his support for National Defense Week which is sponsored by the Reserve Officers Assn. Thurmond is national president of the association.

ECONOMICS: Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) was elected chairman of the Joint Congressional Committee on the Economic Report.

FORMOSA: Key Democrats were studying a confidential memorandum warning of possible objections to the Formosan mutual defense pact. It said formal recognition of Formosa and the Pescadore Islands as territories of the Republic of China might give the Red Chinese government grounds for claiming an attack on these islands was not aggression but civil war.

Battle lines meantime were forming in Congress on the issue of pay raises for congressmen, government workers, and the military.

Masons Close 2-Day School Of Instruction

266 Register; Dinner Honors Grand Master

A highly-successful two-day Masonic school of instruction ended last night at the Masonic temple with a dinner honoring Grand Master Carroll T. Hughes and a closing session that honored Grand officers.

A total of 266 Masons registered for the school, conducted by the Board of Grand Examiners who were assisted by two-score Grand lecturers.

Secretary Stafford B. Light of the Board of Grand Examiners included the following in his attendance report: Grand Lodge officers present 8; Grand examiners 5; Past Grand examiners 12; district deputy Grand Masters 14; Grand lecturers 41; lodges represented 74; Grand Lodge committee members 10; officers of local lodges 82 including 19 masters.

Besides Grand Master Hughes of Jacksonville, the following other Grand officers were present: Milton T. Sonntag of Plainfield, deputy Grand master; Harold R. Kopelman of Chicago, senior Grand warden; Paul R. Stephens of Rushville, junior Grand warden; James Green of Chicago, Grand treasurer; R. C. Davenport of Harrisburg, Grand secretary; Andrew Caraker of Mt. Vernon, Grand chaplain; William Biggers of Harrisburg, deputy Grand secretary.

Most of these and Everett M. Strickland of Harrisburg, district deputy Grand master for District 95, made talks, with Caraker, pastor of the First Baptist church of Mt. Vernon, giving an inspirational and challenging main address.

Three past Grand masters were introduced as follows: R. C. Davenport, Everett L. Lawrence and James Green, all of the Grand Lodge of Illinois.

Grand Master Hughes, in his remarks, praised the work of his district deputies and the Board of Grand Examiners. Members of this board are Chairman Harold D. Ross of Mt. Morris, Stafford B. Light of Chicago, Paul Spangler of Harrisburg, William L. Mason of Eureka and Myron K. Lingle of Springfield.

The Harrisburg school of instruction was the first of five to be held in the state of Illinois this year and the first held here since 1951. Next school will be at Mattoon.

Cook County Board To Ask Powers to Censor Drive-In Movies

CHICAGO (AP)—The Cook County Board will ask the State Legislature for powers to censor movies at drive-in theaters at this session of the Legislature.

William N. Erickson, chairman of the board's legislative committee, said censorship is needed at drive-in theaters in unincorporated areas of the county because of the number of teenagers attending such movies.

He pointed out that "The French Line," a movie banned in Chicago last year, could be shown in drive-in theaters because the Cook county sheriff's office was without authority to ban it.

Woods Sets Up $10,000 Revolving Fund For Wood Products Pilot-Plant at SIU

A $10,000 revolving fund for operating expenses of a cooperative wood products pilot-plant at Southern Illinois university has been made available to the Carbondale U. S. Forest Service Research Center by Woods Charitable Fund, Inc., according to a joint announcement by Frank H. Woods, Chicago, fund treasurer, and Richard D. Lane, Carbondale, forester in charge of the research center.

An agreement signed by the two agencies provides that the fund will be used for labor costs and to purchase lumber and other raw materials for operating at SIU an experimental pilot-plant in manufacturing wood products. Receipts from the sale of these products will be returned to the fund to provide a continuing operation capital.

Lane says the money will enable the pilot-plant to intensify the joint SIU-Forest Service research program and to conduct special research in marketing wood products which it otherwise would not be able to do.

Woods Charitable Fund is a private foundation with headquarters in Chicago. Woods, the treasurer, is also the president of Sahara Coal company, which operates four coal mines in Saline county and maintains its southern Illinois office in Harrisburg.

Woods said the fund has been made available because the foundation desires to further the economic welfare of southern Illinois and the welfare of its citizens by cooperating with the Forest Service in conducting research directed toward greater and more profitable utilization of the area's largely undeveloped forest resources. Forest industries, forest land owners, and the productivity of forest lands all may be benefited by this new program in the southern part of the state.

The pilot-plant, a cooperative venture of Southern Illinois university and the Forest Research center, is in the process of activation at the SIU Vocational-Technical Institute campus near Carverville. A building has been provided and machinery obtained for early installation and operation.

Reports Fliers Survived Soviet Baltic Attack

Freed American Tells of Information From Fellow Captives

BERLIN (AP)—An American freed from almost 10 years enslavement in Soviet prisons said on Tuesday night fellow captives had told him eight U. S. Navy fliers survived a Soviet attack over the Baltic Sea four years ago.

John H. Noble, 31, of Detroit, informed officials that he heard the fliers, crewmen aboard a Navy Privateer downed by Soviet aircraft April 8, 1950, were in Russian hands. Two others died, Noble said he was told.

Noble said the reports claimed the surviving airmen were either in the Yarkuta slave labor complex in the Arctic, where he heard the information, or would be taken there.

He said the Soviets attempted to suppress this news because the Russians themselves had circulated reports that all 10 airmen had been killed in the incident which brought strongest protests from the U. S. State Department.

Didn't See Them

Noble emphasized that he did not see any of the fliers. He said only he had "heard" that airmen shot down over the Baltic and some Americans captured in Korea were in the frigid Yarkuta complex.

If the reports Noble heard were true, the fliers probably were convicted on "spy" charges as in the case of 11 U. S. airmen who were shot down in uniform during the Korean war and jailed by Communist China on espionage allegations.

The Soviet note on the Baltic plane incident, like Red Chinese Premier Chou En-Lai's blast at the United Nations, claimed that the fliers had violated Communist territory.

It said the Privateer, erroneously identified by the Soviets as a B-29, violated Communist territory south of Lepaya, Latvia and failed to obey the order of Soviet fighter planes to land.

U. S. Denies Charge

The United States charged that the plane had not violated Soviet territory and was unarmed when attacked.

The crew of the Privateer, all of whom received posthumous awards, was composed of Lt. John Henry Fette, Connelville, Pa., and included Lt. Howard William Seeshard, Fairlington, Va.; Lt. Robert Duward Reynolds, Danville, N. Y.; Ens. Tommy Lee Burgess, Oswatomie, Kan.; Edward Joseph Purcell, Southwestville, N. J.; Jack William Thomas, Stillwater, N. J.; Joe Henry Danens Jr., Cutbank, Mont.; Frank Lloyd Eckman, Newport, Ky.; Joseph Norris Rinnier Jr., Philadelphia and Joseph J. Bourassa, Linwood, Mich.

Enfield Man Dies in Crash

CARMI, Ill. (AP)—Orlando Smith, 62, Enfield, Ill., died Tuesday in a Carmi hospital from injuries sustained Monday in a traffic accident on an Indiana highway.

Indiana State Police reported Smith was driving an auto in Ind. 66 which ran off the road, then swerved across the center line into the path of an automobile carrier driven by James Nicholson of Poseyville.

Roads were wet and visibility poor at the time.

Sen. Glen Jones Co-Sponsors Bill to Boost Jobless Benefits

First piece of legislation introduced by Saline county's first state senator in 12 years dealt with unemployment benefits, it was learned today.

State Senator Glen O. Jones of Raleigh, who assumed office this month, joined State Senator R. J. Cisenberry, another Republican, in introducing a bill which proposes to increase the maximum unemployment compensation benefits from $27 to $40 a week and extend the maximum length of payments from 26 weeks to 34.

Graveside Services

Graveside services were held at the Zion cemetery today at 1 p. m. for Linda Darlene Hall, six months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hall who reside near Cave-in-Rock. The baby died Tuesday.

The Rev. Arthur Austin officiated at the service, and the Rose funeral home in Cave-in-Rock was in charge.

LEAVES JAIL FOR FUNERAL—Dr. Samuel Sheppard, convicted wife-killer, leaves through rear door of Cleveland funeral home after attending services for his mother, Mrs. Ethel Sheppard, 64, who committed suicide. #### 139 Persons, Including 69 Who Bailed Out, Escape Death in Plane Mishaps

By United Press

A total of 139 persons, including 69 paratroopers and Air Force men who bailed out of Flying Boxcars, have escaped death in four near plane tragedies.

The most spectacular of the widely scattered mishaps Tuesday occurred near Nashville, Tenn., and Miles City, Mont., when the air was dotted with paratroopers drifting down from stricken C-119 Flying Boxcars.

A giant United Airlines DC-7 blew all four of its tires as it landed at Chicago's Midway Airport, but the 54 passengers and five-man crew were not injured.

At Rhinelander, Wis., a private twin-engine DC-3 carrying 11 persons made an emergency landing in a field when both of its engines failed.

There were some fatalities in the air accidents, however.

Two men were missing in the crash of the C-119 at Memphis and two Navy TV-2 jet trainers collided near Corpus Christi, Tex., killing a student pilot.

At Tucson, Ariz., hope faded for four persons aboard a private plane which has been missing five days.

Both of the C-119s were helping to ferry 3,000 troops of the 503rd Regimental Combat Team, 11th Airborne Division, from Ft. Campbell, Ky., to Alaska for "Operation Snowbird."

Near Memphis 37 of the 39 men aboard—five crew members and 34 paratroopers—bailed out before the twin-engine transport crashed and burned.

The plane developed trouble at 10,000 feet shortly after taking off from Severt Air Force Base.

The mass jump, at 6,000 feet, was conducted so calmly that several of the paratroopers thought they were going through a practice drill.

Costa Rican Capital Strafed

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—The center of this invasion-threatened capital was strafed with machine-gun fire from a small, unidentified plane at 8:15 a. m. today.

Unconfirmed reports received in the capital said invaders—identified by the government as coming from neighboring Nicaragua—seized the Pacific coastal port town of Puerto Soley during the night.

The port is located in the far north of Costa Rica, only about three miles from the Nicaraguan frontier and near the city of La Cruz, on the Pan American Highway.

To date there has been no evidence that Nicaraguan nationals are included in the invading force, which apparently is composed mainly of dissident Costa Rican refugees who had been sheltered in Nicaragua and a few supporting mercenaries enlisted in various Central American countries.

The leader of the invasion was said by the government to be Miguel Luis Herrero, a one-time supporter of President Jose Figueres who later broke with him.

Sweden Bans Arms To Central America

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—Sweden today banned all future arms shipments to the nations of Central America and declared the entire Central American area "a region of trouble and unrest."

J. P. Anderson, 69, Of Equality Dies

J. P. Anderson, 69, resident of Equality, died today at 4:30 a. m. in the Lightner hospital.

He leaves his wife, the former Addie Cape, sister of Mrs. Aud Turner and Sam Cape of Harrisburg, and two sons, James Anderson of Equality, and Fred of Chicago.

The body is now at the A. K. Moore funeral home in Equality but later will be taken to the residence to lie in state.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Says VP Did Not Challenge Demo Loyalty

Democrats Charge Smeared Tactics During Campaign

By LYLE C. WILSON

United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today strongly defended Vice President Richard M. Nixon against Democratic charges that Nixon used smeared tactics in the 1954 congressional campaign.

Mr. Eisenhower said Nixon is loyal and patriotic and that he admires him. The President also told his news conference he is sure that Nixon never had challenged the loyalty of the entire Democratic party.

When Mr. Eisenhower was first asked about recent Democratic criticism of Nixon, he fired back at the questioners a stern-voiced inquiry as to whether the reporter was basing his question on actual reading of Nixon's campaign speeches.

The reporter said his question was addressed to Democratic criticism and not the content of Nixon's campaign addresses.

Says Democrats Are Loyal

The President replied first by saying that he does not consider any political party in this country, other than the Communist Party, to be a party of treason. He said he thinks there are as many loyal Americans in the Democratic Party as in his party.

He said he, himself, has never indulged in sweeping condemnation of the Democrats and that Nixon, with whom he breakfasted today, assured him that he never has condemned an entire party. The chief executive said Nixon has questioned the Democratic handling of certain cases but never the loyalty of the Democrats.

He said he would be loathe to admit that Nixon was guilty of any campaign indiscretion. But he conceded that in the heat of a political campaign there are statements made, particularly when taken out of context, that would be open to criticism.

Other Developments

Other political developments at Mr. Eisenhower's first news conference since Dec. 15:

1. He generally favors the idea of a late GOP nominating convention in 1956 to shorten the presidential campaign but said this is a matter more properly to be discussed with the man who might be the GOP presidential candidate. The Republicans have decided tentatively on a September convention.

2. He disclosed that on June 19, 1943, an American political figure suggested that he run for the Presidency. The North African campaign was just ending. The President said he kicked the politician out of his office.

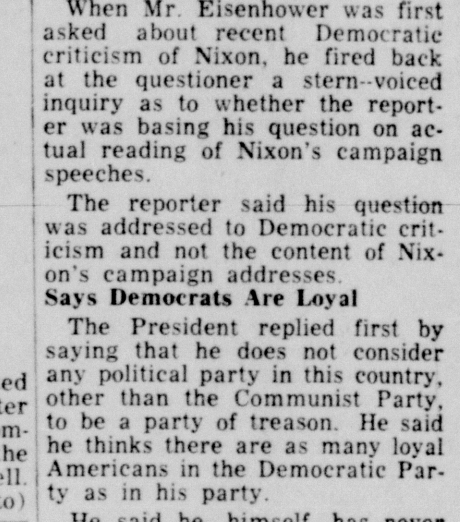

3. On the question of whether he will be a candidate for reelection in 1956 as a matter of duty, Mr. Eisenhower said he would never fail to respond to the call of duty but he would want to know and have to define for himself what in critical circumstances was his duty.

Praise for Nixon

Mr. Eisenhower last Oct. 28 praised Nixon publicly for his campaign role, saying "no man could have done more effective work."

Mr. Eisenhower's endorsement was in a campaign wind-up letter to the vice president expressing admiration "for the tremendous job you have done since the opening of the present campaign." The President's feeling that other Republicans familiar with Nixon's campaign tactics should rise in their defense has been expressed privately since Speaker Sam Rayburn and numerous other Democrats started a hot fire at the 84th Congress convened.

Some observers suggest that the campaign against Nixon is a natural supplement to the successful strategy which laid low Wisconsin's Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy.

Two Youths Steal Car at Carrier Mills; Captured

A road blockade halted two Chicago youths who took off in the Carrier Mills coach's station wagon yesterday afternoon.

The vehicle was taken from the Carrier Mills high school parking lot around 1:30 p. m. and an hour later George Batelli Jr., 18, and Robert Carroll, 16, both of Chicago, were arrested at Vienna by Johnson county Deputy Sheriff Robert Hook and taken to the county jail at Vienna.

Saline county officers were scheduled to go to Vienna today to return the two youths to Harrisburg to face charges.

State Policeman Adolph Sweat said that Carrier Mills high school students saw two youths inspecting and getting into three other cars on the parking lot before they got into the 1951 Plymouth station wagon belonging to Claude Shelton, Carrier Mills high school coach, and take off.

Sweat was informed of the incident and radioed state police headquarters to tell what had happened. Sweat then started out after the car, which had headed southward on Route 45 and Du Quoin messaged officers in the area south of Saline county. A road blockade was quickly set up and the car was halted at Vienna.

The two told Sweat they were headed for Paris, Tenn.

Senior Homemaking Girls at HTHS Enter Homemaker of Tomorrow Contest

Senior girls in the Homemaking department at the Harrisburg Township high school have recently entered a contest, "The Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow." In participating in the contest, the girls were required to take an examination concerning the major areas of homemaking.

In each high school, the girl scoring highest on the test will receive the local Betty Crocker American Homemaker of Tomorrow golden award pin and a Betty Crocker Picture Cook Book. In addition, her test will then be entered with other local representatives in the judging from her own state. State and national selection will be based on test scores plus personal observation and interviews at the national level.

In each state, one senior high school girl will be selected as State Homemaker of Tomorrow. She will receive a $1,500 college scholarship, plus with a teacher from her high school an expense-paid five-day trip, the golden jeweled state award pin, and a complete set of the latest edition of the Encyclopedia Britannica will be given to her high school library.

In the national contest, an additional $3,500 scholarship is one of the awards to the girl among the 48 State Homemakers of Tomorrow who is named as All-American Homemaker. She will be chosen from the group as being representative of the finest qualities needed in our future homemakers. Besides the scholarships, she will be given the Betty Crocker diamond-studded gold homemaker's pin—highest emblem of its type in the United States—plus the opportunity to make an education, expense-paid tour of the nation.

The trip which the 48 State Homemakers of Tomorrow and the 48 teachers will make will begin April 17, at which time the group will tour the nation's capitol in Washington, D. C., Mount Vernon, Williamsburg, Va., and Philadelphia. Arriving in Philadelphia, the group will gather for the grand climax—the Betty Crocker All-American Table. This spectacular banquet will offer foods representative of many American regions and historical periods. Top figures in the entertainment world will be on hand to provide songs and music. During the evening, Betty Crocker will name the 1955 All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow, chosen on the basis of the written exam plus personal observation by the distinguished National Advisory Council of educators and leading citizens. She will then be invited to take a three-month, expense-paid tour of the United States.

HTHS Sophomore Students to Present Four Plays

Sophomore students in the Speech I classes at the Harrisburg Township high school have as part of their work throughout the year, the presentation of assembly plays for the student body. This year the plays which will be presented are three comedies — "Why Get Excited," "Junior," and "The Whole Truth," and one mystery, "Three Taps on the Wall."

The cast of "Why Get Excited" is entirely made up of boys consisting of Lou Ray Williams, Harry Aldridge, Kenneth Byron, Harold Hicks, and John Mazoros.

The play, "Three Taps on the Wall," is an all-girl play and will star the following girls: Myrna Boatright, LeAnna Cummins, Pat Hodson, Nora Shelton, Ann Strobel, Carla Stuby, Mary Ann Conover, Judy Cook, Carol Lightfoot, and Gail Walker.

The two plays, "The Whole Truth" and "Junior," have not yet been cast, but the following sophomores will have parts in the plays when the casts are selected: Mary Ellen Adams, James Allen, Alice-nell Bean, Lester Brinkley, Gary Crews, Randall Erwin, Brenda Dorris, Janice Gidcomb, Claude Hargraves, Larry Healy, Carol Lightfoot, Jim Maddox, Suzanne Seifried, Peggy Stroder, and Burtis Williams.

Mrs. Lolo Eddy will direct all four plays.

SIDE GLANCES

By Galbraith

"I told them Margery had a date and went to a movie—but they said they were her boy friends, too!"

Mrs. James O'Heron

The chapel of Wheelus Air Force Base, Tripoli, Libya, was the scene, Dec. 18, at 12 o'clock noon for the marriage of Miss Betty Jean Winkleman to Lt. James J. O'Heron. For the occasion the chapel and altar were decorated with white roses and red poinsettias.

Miss Winkleman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Winkleman of Harrisburg, was given in marriage by Col. Blain B. Menth, commanding officer of the 34th R.S.M. The Rev. (Capt.) J. Dorris, Air Force chaplain, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Miss Patricia Kessel of Detroit, Mich., was maid of honor. Best man for the bridegroom was Lt. Marion Reis of Belleville. The ushers were Lt. Leonard Meyer of St. Louis, Mo., and Lt. C. S. Scott of Denver, Colo.

A reception was held after the ceremony in the Officers' Club which was decorated with red poinsettias, white roses, and a Christmas tree in keeping with the Christmas theme.

Lt. O'Heron, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. O'Heron of 2710a Arkansas Ave., St. Louis, Mo., attended Christian Brothers college in St. Louis and Memphis, graduated from St. Louis university and is a member of Delta Sigma Phi fraternity. The bride is an alumni of Washington University School of Nursing and prior to flying to Tripoli for the wedding resided at 7631 Carondelet Ave., Clayton, Mo. Lt. To Vota Vita Sunday School Class of Dorrisville Baptist

The Vota Vita Sunday school class of the Dorrisville Baptist church met Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Loudene Day for its regular social.

Miss Joy Randolph opened the meeting with prayer, after which the devotion was given by the teacher, Mrs. Alma Dunn. Closing prayer was offered by Mrs. Lillian Endsley.

Mystery pal gifts were exchanged and delicious refreshments were served to the following: Mrs. Maxine Stephenson, Mrs. Ava Lyons, Mrs. Lillian Endsley, Mrs. Mary Logsdon, Mrs. Alma Dunn, Mrs. Myrtle McClusky, Miss Joy Randolph, Miss Marilyn Day and the hostess, Mrs. Loudene Day.

The February meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Myrtle McClusky.

Hospital Notes

Admitted:
Mrs. Cletus Blake, 1217 State street, Eldorado.
Mrs. Timmis English, RFD 2, Harrisburg.

Ragweed rather than goldenrod sets hay-fever victims to sneezing. Many sufferers wrongly blame goldenrod, according to the National Geographic Society. Its pollen actually is too heavy to ride the wind.

Officers Installed By Presbyterian Lenore Circle

The Lenore circle of the First Presbyterian church met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Ownley Furman with Mrs. Silas Anderson as assistant hostess.

The Year Book of Prayer was given by Miss Edith Morrison.

The program was presented by Miss Julia Williamson who gave the Bible study on the Book of Hebrews. The topic was "New and Living Way."

Mrs. Ethel Burley gave an inspirational installation of officers for the new year. The new officers and committee chairmen are: Mrs. Herman Seifried, chairman; Mrs. Nelle Meyers, vice chairman; Miss Juanita Joiner, secretary; Miss Mary Morrison, treasurer; Mrs. Ownley Furman, program; Mrs. Clyde Pittman, spiritual education and action; Miss Julia Williamson, spiritual growth and stewardship; Mrs. Mildred Boicourt, missionary education; Miss Lelle Anderson, foreign and national missions and Christian education; Mrs. Stella Brashears, literature; Miss Gladys Gaskins, membership and pastor's aid; Mrs. Harry Barter, flowers; Miss Edith Morrison, publicity.

Refreshments of punch and cookies were served to 14 members and two guests.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Steve Farrar.

Delta Alpha Chapter Holds Regular Meeting

Delta Alpha chapter of Delta Theta Tau held its regular business meeting Monday evening in the club room of the public library.

The meeting was conducted by the president, Marian Humm, who read an invitation to the Woman's Club Silver Tea. The chapter voted to make a donation to the Illinois Chapter of Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation.

Following the business meeting the members addressed the sorority birthday calendars for mailing. It is requested that persons who do not receive their calendar within the next few days, call 1486R or 987R.

H. E. Schweizer, Chicago, field representative of the Illinois Tread-It Union League, was in Harrisburg Tuesday calling on members of the league.

ENGAGED. Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Ferrell wish to announce the engagement of their daughter, Alice Marie, to Donald Nave, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernel Nave of Eldorado. The bride-to-be is a senior in the Harrisburg Township high school, and Mr. Nave graduated from the Eldorado Township high school with the class of 1949.

McKinley Euzelean Class
Meets With Mrs. Harlan Seats
The Euzelean Sunday school class of the McKinley Avenue Baptist church met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Harlan Seats, 515 West Raymond street.

Mrs. Bob Mitchell, class president, conducted a business session, and Mrs. Guy Pankey gave the devotion.

During a social hour Mrs. Seats was assisted by Mrs. Cecil Mounce and Mrs. Kenneth Upchurch in serving refreshments to the following:

Mrs. Kendall McDonald, Mrs. Pankey, Mrs. George Rumsey, Mrs. Earl Spangler, Mrs. Wayne Swan, Mrs. Houston Smith, Mrs. Helen Miller, Mrs. Ray Anderson, Mrs. Ernestine Brinkley, Mrs. Roy Chamberlain, Mrs. Ruth Childress, Mrs. Rufus Davidson, Mrs. Garland Fulkerson, Mrs. Mitchell, Mrs. Charles Grounds, Mrs. Carl Kuppert and Mrs. Marion Lasse-ter.

Announcement was made that the February meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Rumsey, who is class teacher.

Mother of Airman Asks Parole Board to Reduce His Sentence

SPRINGFIELD — The mother of a 27-year-old ex-Chanute Field airman today asked the State Pardon and Parole Board to reduce her son's 150-year sentence for the slaying of a Decatur taxi-driver.

Robert Earl Moore, then 20, shot taxi-driver James K. Casey in the back of the head in 1947, on the day Moore was scheduled to be sent from Chanute to the Pacific.

Moore first confessed the crime and said his motive was robbery. Later, he said he couldn't give any motive.

Moore's mother, Mary A. Lincoln, Lake Worth, Fla., testified in his behalf, asking for a reduction of the sentence.

LEGISLATIVE REPORT

To 51st Senatorial District

By Representative

GORDON E. KERR

By request of a number of people I will again make a report to the people of the 51st District, in regard to legislation that will be of major interest to the people of this district. All reports will be non-political.

The 69th session of the General Assembly opened Jan. 5 with a two-day session. Actual work on legislation will not get underway until after the first of February. As a citizen of the State of Illinois you should read the newspapers and know what is going on in Springfield. The General Assembly is the heart of democracy, it can and will regulate the daily lives of all the people that live in the state. Know your legislators, contact them on important legislation that may affect you. At present your legislators are: Glen O. Jones, Senator, W. O. Verhines, Paul Powell and Gordon E. Kerr, Representatives.

This session of the legislature promises to be one of the most difficult in recent years. The request of different organizations for more revenue must be decided. With increased enrollment in our public schools, more funds must be made available. A one cent increase in the state sales tax will not come close to meeting the demands of the cities, counties, and schools. Other solutions must be found to help these units. One solution which is being considered is a fairer assessment law.

The most difficult issue probably will be the act of reapportioning the state. Each legislator will have a personal interest in his district and it is hard to believe 152 legislators can agree on one plan. However, if they fail to agree, then it can be done by a commission of 10 persons. If the commission fails, then all members of the Legislature will run at large. In that event only a very few members would be elected south of Springfield.

On Jan. 5, Governor Stratton outlined his program for this session. Most parts were agreeable with the members of the legislature. However, there are parts where he will meet strong opposition. The division of the House is very close, 78 Republicans and 74 Democrats. A bill must have 77 votes to pass.

Strong efforts will be made to pass a speed limit law in Illinois. Most states now have some kind of a limit. Although a speed limit will not prevent accidents, we believe it will reduce the number. With the passage of a speed limit, a law must be passed to increase the number of State Police to enforce the speed limit. At present the Department of Public Safety has a few unmarked cars on the highway to catch reckless drivers. Every effort by policy and law is being made to make the highways safer.

The next three weeks of the General Assembly will be in organization and committee assignments. The next six months can be very important to you. Read your newspapers, know what is going on, and remember, your legislators appreciate your opinion in regard to legislation.

Shuman Urges Gov't Effort to Create Market

CHICAGO — Charles B. Shuman, newly elected president of the American Farm Bureau, has appealed for less government intervention in farm production and more federal effort to create a market for farm goods abroad.

Shuman spoke Tuesday night to the Illinois Manufacturers' Cost Assn. meeting. It was his first address since being elected Farm Bureau head last month.

He warned that stiff government controls over agriculture encourage Communists, socialists and advocates of nationalized industry.

"I am sure that the future level of farm prices depends more upon effective government action to expand world trade," he said, "than it does upon government action to support prices at any given percentage of parity."

"It is interesting to note," Shuman said, "that practically all of the groups who favor nationalization, socialization or a labor government in this country are in the forefront of the group which is demanding continuation of rigid controls and government price fixing in agriculture."

Shuman, whose organization claims 1,609,471 farm families as members, said that the program of 90 per cent of parity which helped the nation during wartime was a "tragic mistake" for peacetime.

Must Break Trade Barriers

"Unfortunately," he said, "billions of dollars worth of farm products were accumulated before the need for a change in direction was finally recognized by Congress."

With farm surpluses still piling up, Shuman said a breaking down of trade barriers is necessary to bring American farm produce into world markets. This means the United States must import more products from abroad to give foreign nations dollars to purchase American farm goods, he said.

Shuman said the farmer's efforts for a free competitive market must be matched by similar economic efforts by industry and labor.

"If agriculture is to place emphasis on abundant, low-cost production for a free market, we on the farms must be given a reasonable opportunity by having competition and free pricing in industry and labor," he said.

Shuman was formerly president of the Illinois Agricultural Assn., the largest single state group in the Farm Bureau. He is a farmer near Sullivan, Ill.

No U. S. Action In Costa Rica, President Says

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower said today the United States will have nothing to say on the dispute between Costa Rica and Nicaragua until a special inter-American commission has made its on-the-spot investigation. The President pointed out at his news conference that the special five-man commission, appointed by the Council of the Organization of American States, left Washington by plane for Costa Rica early today.

The President pointed out that the OAS had been successful in the past in settling inter-American disputes. But the President cut off any questions about the airborne invasion of Costa Rica by saying there will be nothing to say here until the commission completes its investigation and reports.

The Council of the Organization of American States authorized the on-the-spot investigation of the Costa Rica-Nicaragua feud at an emergency meeting here late Tuesday. It also voted to call an extraordinary meeting of American foreign ministers to consider the reported invasion. Other developments at the President's news conference today included:

Ladejinsky: He said that at first he took a jaundiced view of Wolf Ladejinsky when he first heard of the agricultural expert's security case. Later, he changed his opinion upon learning that Ladejinsky had written an anti-Communist book. Ladejinsky was refused security clearance by Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson but later was hired by the Foreign Operations Administration after a security clearance.

Loyalty program: The government program for checking employee security probably isn't perfect and is subject to a constant review within the administration. But the President didn't see how a review by a commission of private citizens would be helpful.

Atomic weapons: He does not foresee the use of atomic weapons as a police instrument in some minor aggressive actions. In such disturbances which threatened the peace of the world but did not involve outside interference by a major power he envisioned the use of light mobile forces at the request of friendly governments.

Williamson Sheriff's Office to Supervise Lake Rescue Operations

MARION, Ill. — The Williamson County sheriff's office will be in charge of all future rescue operations at nearby Crab Orchard Lake, Deputy Sheriff Ora Colvard said today.

The delegation of authority was made Tuesday night at a meeting of the Crab Orchard Firemen's Assn. in Herrin. Firemen from Carbonale, Carterville, Du Quoin, Herrin and West Frankfort attended.

Teams of firemen from cities near the lake will carry out actual search and rescue operations on the lake, Colvard said. Robert Burke, West Frankfort, was named captain of the rescue team.

The sheriff's office also will be in charge of communications during rescue work and will handle traffic and spectators which have hampered rescue work in the past. Small islands in the lake which have been known in the past by informal names will be coded by numbers of maps to be distributed to area fire departments to help rescuers locate boating accidents.

Internal Revenue Office To Aid Taxpayers

Representatives of the Harrisburg office of the Internal Revenue Service today reminded taxpayers that the local office would be open Jan. 17 to 31 and April 4-15 to assist taxpayers in filling out returns. Last filing date of returns on 1954 taxes is April 15.

Saline Baptist WMU Quarterly Meeting at Pankeyville Tomorrow

IAA Committee Advises Alternatives To Continue Farm Extension Work

CHAMPAIGN — An advisory committee of the Illinois Agricultural Extension Service today recommended consideration of alternatives to permit "a continuation of local support" of farm extension work.

In Illinois, this meant the loss of about one million dollars which farm organizations, principally the Farm Bureau, had been contributing for extension work each year.

The advisory committee ended a two-day conference on the matter Tuesday. It heard from officials of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, University of Illinois College of Agriculture and the Farm Bureau.

The only specific alternative to direct private contributions mentioned in the committee report was possible contributions by farm organizations to the U. of I. college of agriculture. The college would then "reassign" the funds to support extension programs.

C. M. Ferguson, administrator of the Federal Extension Service, said Benson's order didn't call for any "immediate or drastic action which would seriously disrupt the Illinois extension program."

Ferguson said the order was aimed as possible charges that direct contributions by farm organizations to extension work might influence the service's policies.

He said the change to a completely public support extension service would have to be worked out over a long period of time — perhaps three to five years. But he said any change should strengthen the extension service in the state.

U. of I. Agriculture Dean Louis B. Howard assured the committee that "continued local support" of extension work was "highly desirable." He said college officials would continue to consult federal Agriculture Department spokesmen on the "acceptability and feasibility of various alternatives."

Former Diplomat Dies of Carbon Monoxide Poisoning

VENTURA, Calif. — Former U. S. diplomat Halvern N. Norris, 58, died of carbon monoxide poisoning Tuesday.

Norris, one of three men who made the rich Cuyama oil strike in California in 1949, was found dead in his office here with a gas heater on and the office windows closed. The coroner's office said the death apparently was accidental.

Norris, who retired from the diplomatic service in 1946, was a specialist on Asiatic affairs. Since its discovery six years ago, the Cuyama oil find has become one of the biggest oil producing areas in California.

Norris' survivors include two sisters, Mrs. W. G. Farris, Champaign, Ill., and Mrs. William Broom, Effingham, Ill.

McCarthy, Short Unperturbed by Crackpot Threats

WASHINGTON — Police guarded the homes of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and Rep. Dewey Short (R-Mo.) today after a man calling himself "Bimbo" telephoned that the lives of the two lawmakers were "in danger."

The call was made to Capt. William Broderick, head of the Capitol police force. McCarthy's next-door neighbor Mrs. George W. Ennis, also received a call from a man with a "foreign voice" who threatened to blow up the senator's house.

Broderick said "Bimbo" sounded like a crackpot and that police were not particularly alarmed. Such calls were not uncommon, other police officials said.

McCarthy was not disturbed by the threat. "The left-wingers, screwballs and crackpots couldn't murder me politically," he said. "I'm not worried about anybody doing it physically."

He talked with reporters at his home in northeast Washington, three blocks from the Capitol. Short also was unperturbed. He entered the Bethesda, Md., Navy Medical Center today for minor surgery.

Father of Dr. Sheppard Gravely Ill with Pleurisy

CLEVELAND, O. — Dr. Richard A. Sheppard, 65-year-old father of convicted wife-killer Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, lay gravely ill in Cleveland Clinic today with pleurisy.

Dr. Sam's eldest brother, Dr. Richard N. Sheppard, said their father's condition was "poor, verging on critical." He said the diagnosis of the elder Dr. Richard had not been "definitely pinpointed." However, he said he agreed with the pleurisy diagnosis made when his father was stricken a month ago during Dr. Sam's trial for the murder of his wife, Marilyn.

News of his condition was brought to Dr. Sam Tuesday afternoon at the county jail here where he is being held pending a Court of Appeals ruling on a defense motion for a new trial.

The ruling is expected Monday on Dr. Sam's Dec. 21 conviction for second-degree murder, in the July 4 bludgeoning-slaying of his 31-year-old pregnant wife.

Ciucci Receives Death Sentence On Murder Charge

CHICAGO — Vincent Ciucci, charged with killing his wife and three children to clear the path for an affair with his dark-haired mistress, was convicted and given a mandatory death sentence Tuesday.

It was the fourth time the state had demanded the electric chair for the 29-year-old grocer, but the first time its request was granted. Specifically, the Criminal Court jury convicted Ciucci of slaying his 9-year-old son, Vincent Jr., on Dec. 5, 1953.

It recommended death and Judge Arthur Murphy must impose this sentence unless a new trial is granted.

Ciucci had already been convicted of slaying his wife, Anne, 28, and his daughter, Angeline, 4. However, the sentences were only 20 years in the first case and 45 years in the second.

An earlier trial on charges of killing Vincent Jr. ended in a mistrial and Ciucci has yet to come to trial on charges of slaying another daughter, Virginia, 8.

481,000 vehicles used the New Hampshire seacoast toll expressway during July, 1954—11 per cent more traffic on the 14-mile road than in the same month in 1953.

watch your elimination. A few days after you start taking Drag-NOT Tablets the lazy organs will go back to work and you will notice the black, poisonous waste beginning to leave your body.

Foster Father Held in Slapping Death of Boy, 4

CHICAGO — A 200-pound foster father has been charged with murdering a 4-year-old boy who died after he was slapped repeatedly for "misbehaving."

Sheriff Stanley Lynch of DuPage county obtained the charge against William Cheterbok, 22, following the death of Gregory Lennon in Illinois Research hospital here Tuesday.

Cheterbok, an $80-a-week draftsman who lives in suburban Naperville, told police he slapped Gregory five times with his open hand last week for misbehaving.

Doctors said the boy's head, shoulders, arms and legs were covered with bruises when the Cheterboks brought him to the hospital Monday night. Gregory lapsed into a coma from which he never emerged.

Gregory and his 2-year-old brother, Dennis, were placed in the Cheterbok home last November by the Catholic Home Bureau. Bureau officials said the home had been "highly recommended" and a welfare worker found conditions satisfactory when she visited it at Christmas.

Cheterbok and his wife, Janice, 22, had received $80 a month for taking care of the two boys. After Gregory's death, Dennis was removed to another foster home.

Cheterbok was held in Wheaton on $1,000 bond, while his wife was released on $1,000 bond. She was later placed under guard in County Hospital when it was discovered she was suffering from pneumonia.

Stevenson Disagrees With Eisenhower On Nixon Campaign

CHICAGO (UP)—Adlai Stevenson said today that he disagrees with President Eisenhower and does not approve of the "kind of campaigning" staged by Vice President Richard Nixon last fall.

Stevenson, whom Mr. Eisenhower defeated in 1952, held a brief news conference as he opened an office to resume practicing laws.

The former Illinois governor was told that the President at his news conference today said he was sure Nixon never had challenged the loyalty of the entire Democratic Party and that he admires Nixon very much.

"The President has frequently expressed his enthusiasm for Mr. Nixon," Stevenson said. "Indeed, he put him in charge of the Republican campaign last year, and when it was over sent him a letter expressing his approval and admiration for his conduct of the campaign."

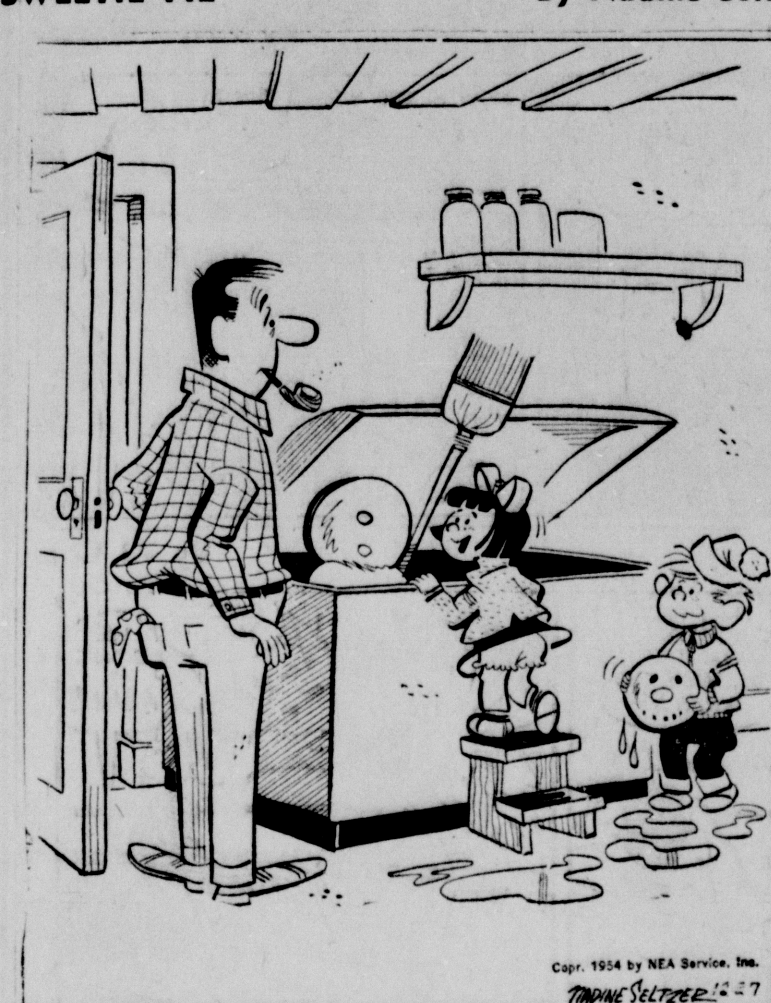

"I think it is obvious that the President not only approves but admires that kind of campaigning. I don't."

Pay Boost for Midwest Truckers

CHICAGO (UP)—Long distance truck drivers in 12 Midwest states have been granted pay raises totaling 26 cents an hour, plus increased mileage rates, in a new three-year contract.

The agreement, signed Tuesday between the AFL Teamsters Union and over-the-road truck operators, covers 50,000 drivers in 12 Midwest trucking companies in 12 Midwest states and the Tulsa, Okla., and Louisville, Ky., areas.

Under the new agreement, trucking companies must pay their drivers a minimum of $75 a week, even if layoffs of some workers are required.

The employers also agreed to contribute $2 a week into a pension fund for each driver and to increase contributions toward the health-welfare funds.

Dorm Proctor Kills Student During Rampage

SWARTHMORE, Pa. — Swarthmore College students today agreed that dormitory proctor Robert Bechtel went on his fatal shooting spree Tuesday because he apparently couldn't take a "normal amount" of hazing.

Bechtel, in his rampage through the college dormitory, fired seven shots including one that killed Francis H. Strozzer, 19, of Akron, Ohio, a sophomore.

He told authorities Strozzer was his "chief tormentor" among a group of prankish students in his dormitory.

Several students who declined use of their names admitted that such antics as exploding firecrackers or tossing the proctor's bed out a window had occurred. They said such happenings constituted normal behavior in a college dorm.

"Nothing happened in our section that didn't happen in any other dorm," one of the students said. "We never dreamed it would turn out like this."

Another student said most dormitory proctors would not have been antagonized by the pranks. He said Bechtel was "definitely more serious" than the average dormitory proctor.

Bechtel, 22, of Pottstown, Pa., told police during the lengthy questioning that followed the shooting, that he had been a patient at the Norristown, Pa., State Hospital in 1950. Dr. Edward Humphries, assistant superintendent of the hospital, said Bechtel was paroled after one week with an "undiagnosed psychosis." He said Bechtel's mother never answered a written inquiry about her son and he subsequently was taken off the hospital rolls as a patient.

Bechtel was charged with homicide in the shooting and held without bail for grand jury action on orders of Magistrate Morris Smith. He was remanded to Delaware County Prison at Broadmeadows.

SEC Group Recommends Approval of Dixon-Yates Power Project

WASHINGTON — Supporters of the Dixon-Yates power project had an important new ally today in the division of corporate regulation of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

The division, which took a neutral part in last month's hearing on Dixon-Yates financing, recommended approval of the monetary details in a legal brief filed with the commission Tuesday.

The division's views are not the views of the commission itself. But the brief will be considered by the commission in deciding the case.

State to Loan Books To Benton Library, Destroyed by Fire

SPRINGFIELD — Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter today carried out plans to send 10,000 library books to Benton, where the public library was destroyed by fire Sunday night.

Carpenter, who is state librarian, said the books will be on loan to Benton while the city public library rebuilds its collection.

Mrs. Elsie Lignon, the Benton librarian, asked for help.

Faces Charges In County Court

James Luster was charged with driving while under the influence of liquor, reckless driving and illegal transportation of liquor in an information filed today in county court. He was arrested several days ago by state police.

Wildcats Drop 65-47 Game At Metropolis

Carrier Mills' Wildcats made the long trip south to Metropolis Tuesday evening and dropped a 65-47 decision to the home club.

The Trojans, a veteran outfit that had trouble early in the season, have started to roll and play the type of ball expected of them. Last Friday they soundly thumped a well-regarded Johnston City squad 85-46 and had last night's game under control at practically all stages.

Only in the second quarter did Carrier Mills show to advantage, outscoring Metropolis 14-7 in the period to trail by just two points at half time.

Metropolis got away fast and held a 14-5 lead after one period of play. Then the 'Cats spurted and just before the end of the quarter went in front by two points, however four fast markers put Metropolis back in the lead, 21-19, as the second quarter ended.

Metropolis, with Gillespie and Barfield pacing the attack, completely controlled the final two quarters. In the third quarter Barfield accounted for 15 points, while his teammate Gillespie had 10 points in each the third and fourth frames. The two tied for scoring honors for the night with 24 points each.

Oliver Rollins hit for 22 points to lead the losing Carrier Mills squad.

Metropolis also took the preliminary game, 46-45, in an overtime Saturday night Carrier Mills will be at home, hosting Carbondale Attucks, who last Friday night won its 15th game of the season without a loss.

Nebraska Fans Petition Legislature To Fire Coach

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — A group of 160 Nebraska football fans have sent a petition to the State Legislature calling for the resignation of Husker Football Coach Bill Glassford.

It was the second straight year that Glassford was under pressure to resign. Last year team players and university officials called for Glassford's resignation, but he refused to quit and led Nebraska to second place in the Big Seven Conference and a trip to the Orange Bowl.

Sen. George Syas, Omaha, said the signers of the petition wanted Glassford to resign because of the Huskers' poor showing in the Orange Bowl. Duke defeated Nebraska, 54-7.

Nebraska sports writers have blamed the Huskers' poor showing on "inadequate training."

But Syas said the Legislature would take no action on the petition, and that it wouldn't even be read to the Legislature.

Glassford and Athletic Director Bill Orwig refused to comment on the petition.

Individual prospectors have made nearly all the important new uranium discoveries in the United States, says the National Geographic Society. ## 'Horse' Ameche to Receive New Car, Palomino at Home Town Celebration

KENOSHA, Wis. (AP) — Wisconsin's "Horse," Alan Ameche, will get both a horse and an automobile tonight at a home town celebration to honor its most prominent citizen, but it was questionable today when he'll actually take possession of either prize.

Ameche, the Badger fullback for four years, won the Heisman Trophy this year, was named Player of the Year, set a new ground gaining record for college competition, was picked to the All American team and made the All Big Ten team for the third time.

His awards tonight began with the new car, which he will receive for the third time, a Palomino stallion, dozens of roses, clothing, a wrist watch, and cash expected to exceed "a buck a yard" for the 3,212 yards he gained in 36 college games.

Both the car and the horse were humorous aspects of the celebration. In fact probably neither will be on display, because the banquet, for which 1,000 tickets were sold in less than 48 hours two months ago, will be held on the third floor of a lodge building.

Definitely the car will not fit in the elevator so Ameche will be welcomed on a fire truck and transported by it to the banquet.

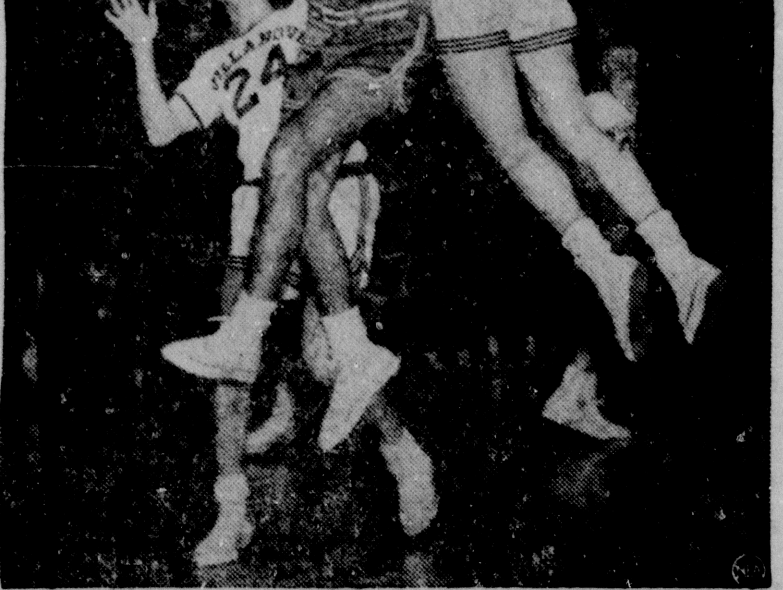

It was expected that the horse would exceed the elevator capacity and be presented outside the building.

"We don't know what he's going to do with the horse," a sponsor said. "Probably give it back."

The automobile, a hardtop sedan sky blue with a snow white top, was given to Ameche first on Jan. 6 when it was the first off the production line of a local manufacturer. It was awarded to him again that night, informally.

Tonight he will receive it for the third time, but he will not be permitted to drive it, even though it will bear 1955 Wisconsin license B (for Badger) 35 (his Wisconsin number).

"They can't give it to him until they've produced enough cars to supply all the dealers," a committee member said. "We don't know how long he'll have to wait for it. He's maybe driven it four or five feet in the garage for pictures."

WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE?—Dequesne's Mickey Winograd, No. 22, is fouled by Villanova's Bob Schaefer, No. 25, as he drives in for layup. But who cares as long as the shot goes in? (NEA)

Looking At Sports

By BILL MELTON
In Tuesday's Daily Register assignments of teams for district and regional basketball tournament play were carried. District play gets underway Feb. 21 and regionals will start Feb. 28.

However, before those tourneys start there will be lots of action in invitation tournaments. The big one from Saline county fans' point of view is the second annual Saline County blind-draw affair to be held at Davenport gym Friday and Saturday, Jan. 28-29.

Next week another tourney — the Greater Egyptian meet — will be held and one Saline county school — Galatia — will participate. The GE meet is listed for Jan. 18, 19, 20 and 21 at the Pope county high gym.

Offhand the Saline county tournament, with Harrisburg, Eldorado, Galatia and defending champ Carrier Mills, looks like another well matched affair, with fans assured of two nights of closely contested games.

The first annual tourney, held last year, resulted in some good basketball and also in building good sportsmanship and friendship between the four high schools involved.

Drawings held the opening night pitted Carrier Mills against Galatia and Harrisburg against Eldorado, with Carrier Mills and Eldorado winning their way into the championship game. The 'Cats took home the big trophy. Eldorado was second, Galatia third and Harrisburg fourth.

And not only was it an artistic success, but also a financially profitable venture with each team getting something more than $325 for its share of the receipts after expenses were paid.

The annual Centralia invitation, played during the holidays, drew an attendance of 16,400.

FREE SHOOTING! Last Friday Marion and Benton played a South Seven game in which 79 free shots were attempted and 53 were made. A total of 51 fouls were called, 26 on Benton and 25 on Marion. Marion hit on 32 of 42 free throw tries and Benton connected on 21 of 37 attempts. Harris of Marion hit on 19 of 21 tries, including 16 in a row.

Southern Illinois university, with a 1-1 record in conference play, holds fifth spot in the IIAAC standings. Eastern Illinois and Michigan Normal top the standings, each with two victories and no defeats. The Michigan team will invade the SIU gym Thursday night and Saturday night Central Michigan, with no wins in two starts, will be hosted by Southern.

Crab Orchard Suffers First Conference Loss

Thompsonville, defending Little Egyptian conference champ, strengthened its grasp on fourth place last night by walloping Dahlgren on the latter's home court, 80-48. After losing three of their first four loop contests, the Tigers have now won five straight.

Elsewhere in conference play last night, Bluford surprised Crab Orchard by winning 67-63. The Trojans were unbeaten in league play aeretofore. Bluford's victory moved them into sole possession of second place. Two of Crab Orchard's players missed the bus and did not make it to the Bluford goaly unit half the game was played. The Trojans trailed 31-26 at the half.

Thompsonville went into a 24-9 lead in the first quarter and experienced little difficulty with Dahlgren. The Tigers were ahead 44-24 at the half and 63-34 at the end of three quarters.

Coach Bob Munday's eaglers shot 47 per cent from the field but made only 18 of 37 tries at the foul line. Dahlgren hit only 27 per cent of its attempts from the field.

The Tigers now have a nine won, five lost record.

THOMPSONVILLE — Doss 12, Carlile 6, Lemmon 17, Knight 4, Hodgson 14, Absher 4, Gregory 17, Snyder 0, Marsh 6, Rotramel 0, McCullough 0, Isaacs 0, DAHLGREN — Kelly 2, Gowler 2, Keifer 26, Shirley 2, Brake 9, Harp 7.

Al Rosen, Indians Come to Terms

By United Press
Third baseman Al Rosen reported today after coming to terms with the Cleveland Indians for an estimated $30,000.

"The doctor tells me it's going to be fine," the American League's Most Valuable Player of 1953 said. "It feels much better and I don't think it will give me any more trouble."

Rosen, 29-year-old prematurely graying slugger, suffered a broken right index finger last May 25. He was out of the lineup more than two weeks and could not properly grip his bat the remainder of the campaign. He completed the season with a .300 batting average, 24 homers and 132 runs batted in.

Rookie pitchers Joe Margoneri and Jim Constable and outfielder Bill Taylor signed Tuesday bringing the New York Giants' contented list to 13 players.

Charge Sergeant With Collaborating With Chinese Reds

FT. BRAGG, N. C. (AP) — A 40-year-old master sergeant, veteran of 20 years in the Army, has been charged with collaborating with Chinese Communists and informing on his fellow soldiers while a prisoner of war in Korea, the Army announced today.

M-Sgt. William H. Olson of the 449 Field Artillery Observation Battalion here, was informed today that he will be brought to trial on eight specifications charging violation of Article 104 of the Uniformed Code of Military Justice. It would be the first charge for Mims, a Washington, D. C., Negro, 160-pounder, now fighting out of Cleveland lost a unanimous 15-round decision to Olson in August. The balding fighter, who Thursday receives the Order of the Year award from the Boxing Writers Association in New York, will be at ringside to see who will be the next person to challenge his crown.

THE STORY: Radcliff Burke has planned to take a shipment of Union Army rifles from Captain Crotch's riverboat. Crotch has many other things to contend with, not the least of which is Captain Jamison's rival Navigation Company. Aboard Crotch's General Heath is Burke, and a man named Cal Dreyfus, who is a friend of Crotch. Dreyfus is accompanied by Queenie, his bride to be. Queenie once was in love with Burke.

IX
At Picacho rock Amador was coming up fast and Crotch was sure Jamison meant to pass them. He had taken the wheel from Goss, now he signaled the engine pit for the full head of steam in the boilers. But the General Heath was badly overloaded and made scarcely any extra headway.

Here at Picacho a submerged rock stood in midriver into which a steamer had rammed last spring. Her ripped hull still lay partly blocking the channel. Jamison was a hogfish captain who would never allow Crotch to clear the danger point before passing. Although still small, for the Colorado could navigate no full-size California packets, compared to the Heath the Navigation boat was a palace with twin side wheels and ornate chimneys and a large pilothouse perched atop her Texas. Jamison had brought her up the Gulf to capture the river trade. With her he had brought the San Diego and Claremore, all three former gold-coast steamers. But whenever the combine chose to fight, Crotch would drive back blow for blow in a manner Jamison never dreamed. That fight was close now.

Passengers began yelling at each other between the two packets. Crotch sighted the racing Amador coming up on his port quarter, discovered Shelby Calhoun on the Texas. He thought how surprisingly alike Calhoun and Burke were with their black hair and bland eyes and their cold-hearted manner. But Calhoun was basically more forthright than Burke. When Calhoun disliked a man, that man would be well apprised of that hatred. A pistol cracked, sending a ball through the General Heath's chimney stack. Immediately, answering shots banged along the Heath's port rails. A windowsash shattered aboard the Amador. Then Goss was yelling at their passengers to put down their firearms. Calhoun was doing the same aboard the other boat. At this point this range, pistol practice could become decidedly dangerous.

Amador was surging ahead. The backwash of her starboard paddle was pouring into the General Heath, causing her to broach contrary to her helm. They were opposite the rock with its half-submerged wreck. The channel here was narrow, treacherous. Crotch felt reverberations running up from the shallow river bottom. He knew Jamison had shoved him into shoal water. A few moments later their scowlike prow lifted on a gravel bar. Every timber gave a groan as the ship settled motionless in the muddy current. Crotch rang Melott for a shutdown. They would be here until the brawn of their Copahs released his ship's hull from the bar. This was Jamison's first move, his initial play in a fight that must be fought to the bitter ending.

"Haul yourselves over the rail and give them Indians a hand!" Goss yelled at his deckload of miners. "You want to stay here forever, you hardrocks!" The lightened decks plus the brawn of the miners succeeded in freeing the packet. But they lost two full hours laboring in the broiling sun. Meanwhile Amador was far upriver.

Crotch was conscious of someone climbing the Texas ladder, and then Queenie's words came to him against the clamor of men still struggling in the river. "When Jamison picked you to fight he was asking for trouble. You do things alone, you don't need or ask help. It's a habit with you."

Presidential Leadership

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT
The indications are growing that President Eisenhower is taking a more active leadership role in the Republican Party's affairs.

Not long ago, in discussing his progressive-moderate notions of government, he gave evidence of trying to mold the party in that image. Now he is reported by some Washington observers to have prepared a roster of attractive presidential possibilities for future use.
His list reflects the same interest in putting the progressive-moderate stamp on the GOP.

Inevitably, men who do not want this stamp placed on the party or on themselves will not be overjoyed at these recent signs from the White House. They liked it better when the President left politics wholly to his advisers and opponents.

Yet, from both the party's and the nation's viewpoint, this new phase of Mr. Eisenhower's presidential career must be hailed as a healthful development.

A President of the United States today is not merely a chief executive nor a principal administrator among many top administrators.
He is the leader of the American people, for he and his running mate are the only government officers elected in nationwide balloting. He is also the official leader of his party.

These two kinds of leadership tie closely together. The sort of forefocal guidance people have come to expect from the White House since Lincoln's time cannot be provided wholly within the range of the U. S. Constitution.
The Constitution's framers sought carefully to keep the powers of Congress and the Presidency separate. Only the party machinery allows the President to exert leverage against his congressional associates.

In other words, party politics is a prime lubricant of presidential leadership. A President is automatically a political leader in name, whether he wishes to be or not. This authority is his great opportunity for broad leadership.
If he does not use it, then it is hard for him to be much more than just a top administrator and a kind of referee, blowing the whistle on competing interests.

Mr. Eisenhower began his term of office not wishing to use his political authority. He wanted to be a statesman but not a politician.
But the Presidency is a dual role, and the signs now suggest that henceforth he is prepared to play both parts.

A man can be a politician and still be a statesman. But it is not likely in this imperfect world, that he can be just a statesman.
Mr. Eisenhower appears to have come to that conclusion.

Unique Fellowships to Aid U. S., Foreign Businessmen

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Officers and a group of the students of the new "Eisenhower Exchange Fellowships, Inc." are scheduled to call at the White House Jan. 11 for a first report on how their enterprise is getting along. There has been practically no publicity about these Eisenhower Exchange Fellowships. They are the creation of a relatively new foundation honoring the President.

For 1955, 12 fellowships have been granted and more are to come, up to a total of 20. Nine have gone to foreigners for special work in the U. S. and three to Americans for research abroad.

They are not the usual type of academic scholarship granted to professors, scientists or artists for postgraduate study.

Eisenhower fellows are to be carefully selected young business executives—25 to 40 years old—of demonstrated ability and a promising future in the field of their countries' greatest need. Each is to get a year's training in business leadership through practical, day-to-day experience in their special fields.

THEY ARE more like business-experience fellowships than abstract scholarships. This is called a manifestation of the new private enterprise, international business statesmanship, which the President praises highly.

The idea for the Eisenhower Exchange Fellowships originated with Thomas B. McCabe, president of Scott Paper Co. Some time after leaving his Washington job as chairman of the U. S. Federal Reserve Board, Mr. McCabe took a trip abroad. He came back convinced that there should be a closer relationship among the free world's business and professional people.

Mr. McCabe's idea was that private business had a direct responsibility in this field. Unless free world training for leadership were advanced, there never could be world unity.

He began to talk up his idea among his wide circle of business acquaintances. Thomas J. Watson of International Business Machines was made chairman of a finance committee. In little more than a year, he had pledged from 600 businessmen for an average of $500 apiece. Some gave only $250. A few gave $15,000 apiece. The total of $325,000 collected was enough to assure a full year's operation.

WHEN THE Pennsylvania Republicans gave President Eisenhower his whopping big 63rd birthday party at Hershey, Pa., Oct. 14, 1953,
Mr. McCabe and his associates spelled out their plan to the President. They asked his permission to call it the "Eisenhower Fellowships," as a birthday tribute to his contributions as soldier, statesman and leader.

The original idea had been only

State to Reply to Toll Road Suit in Federal Court Jan. 18

CHICAGO (AP)—Hearings on the state's reply to a suit against the 1953 Toll Road Act will be held in U. S. District Court here Jan. 18.
It was announced today.

The suit against the 390-million-dollar toll road program was filed by 3 members of the Illinois Property Owners Assn. They contend the act is unconstitutional in that it allows the taking of property without due process of law and does not permit review of Toll Road Commission decisions by a court or state agency.

Federal Court refused to dismiss the suit, leaving the state the choice to fight it or appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court. The state decided to fight the case.

What's happened to the old home ties?

They aren't what they used to be.

Today twenty million women in the U. S. work in an office or an industry.

One out of every three women is gainfully employed!

Almost ten million married women; more than five million single girls; and over four million widowed, divorced, and separated women work.

Twenty million women is a big market in anybody's plans.

Yet these twenty million women can't hear or see a soap opera from morning to night!

But they can be reached through their daily newspaper. And are reached because 95% of the women in America read a daily newspaper some time during the day. When or where they will.

As for advertising, a survey taken at the time of New York's newspaper strike disclosed that the item women missed most in the newspaper was the advertising.

So if you want to tell these women about your product, tell them, and sell them, and keep them sold in... The Daily Newspaper.

New Coat Look: Ladylike and Slim

The lighter, slimmer coat with narrower shoulders and sleeves is the coat with fashion importance for Spring, 1955. We show (left) a light-colored tweed flecked with mauve and purple, the back a series of soft, unpressed pleats. Collar is wide and spreading. This is by Monte Sano. Short, simple coat in turquoise wool (center) has no buttons, straight lines, the shorter sleeve with narrow cuff. This is an Originala design. Monte Sano's beige coat (right) in silk-and-wool mixture has small belt placed low under soft gathers. Lines of this coat are straight, sleeves are narrow, cuffs are shallow.

LET'S TALK ABOUT RETIREMENT:
Insurance Firm Conditions Employees
For Transition from Business to Leisure

By ROBERT L. PETERSON
University of Illinois

Retirement Planning. What are modern business firms doing to help employees meet retirement successfully? Here's an example describing the plan set up last summer by the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York. The plan is designed to condition employees for their forthcoming retirement. It provides a full year of retirement preparation, thus helping employees avoid an abrupt transition from the business world to retirement leisure.

As the first group of older employees convened, each individual received a copy of the book "How to Retire and Live It," and a two-year subscription to the magazine "Lifetime Living." They were astonished and pleased to learn that during their last year with the company their work week would be reduced from five days to four days.

The second meeting of the group took up the problem of "What is Retirement?" Each employee was encouraged to look forward to retirement, to weigh carefully his own values and habits, and to decide what he would most enjoy and profit by in his newly added leisure time. It was emphasized that the retiring employee must feel useful, be active, gain recognition, have companionship, and have something to look forward to. It was pointed out that these needs are present in all people, whether they are working or whether they are retired. Practical ways of utilizing leisure time were also suggested. Possibilities of a part-time job, useful community work, and church and political activities were among the suggestions discussed.

The third meeting covered the financial aspects of retirement, and there were discussions about the company pension plan, Social Security, the need for a budget, and how to supplement one's income. The fourth meeting was conducted by the company doctor, the fifth meeting discussed specific employment opportunities and hobbies for retired people, and the sixth meeting covered places to live in retirement. The seventh and final meeting in the series was devoted to a lively discussion on "How to Handle Retirement With Zeal."

This program is typical of the modern retirement planning programs being set up by progressive organizations for their older employees. These programs are built around the belief that it is not enough to give an employee a pension when he retires. Rather, it

The young folks' Sunday school class will hold its monthly social with Joe and Mary Margaret Small Tuesday evening. Shirley Dutton is the teacher.

Margaret Hatcher gave the local leader lesson, "Care of Bathroom and Kitchen Equipment," at the home of Mrs. Hubert Bond Tuesday for the Galatia Home Bureau.

Paul R. Droit and Joe Small are taking the Short Course training at Benton each Friday for three weeks. Franklin, Williamson and Saline County men are attending.

Saline County Angus Breeders extend best wishes to L. E. Davis during his illness. Mr. Davis is vice president of the Saline County Aberdeen Angus Breeders Ass'n.

Mrs. Beedie Harris enjoyed the visit of her daughter, Mrs. Carlton Lewis and family of Pontiac, Mich., a few days ago as they were en route home following their Christmas vacation in Miami, Fla. The Good Neighbor club enjoyed a family dinner meeting Saturday evening at Abney school with eight members and their families attending. Present were the following and their families: Les Allen, A. P. Golliver, Chas. Lockwood, Paul Droit, A. J. Droit, Leland Hayes, Geo. Bond and John C. Small.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Small and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Lockwood visited the Clifford Hoffer family Sunday.

The Mt. Moriah W. S. C. S. met at the home of Mrs. Walter Golliver Thursday with 10 members and two guests, Mrs. Norman Hull and Mrs. Floyd Tuttle. The meeting opened with song led by Mrs. Clifford Knight and prayer led by Mrs. Cecil Simpson. The lesson leader, Mrs. Junior Golliver, was aided by other members in giving the lesson on Family Worship. The hostess served an iced drink and wafers at the social hour. The February meeting will be with Mrs. Joyce Cable with Mrs. David Lewis as leader.

Word has been received of the birth of Lloyd Kimmell III, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Kimmell II, live in Atlanta, Ga. Their three older children are girls, two are twins. Mrs. Mary Riegel is the great-grandmother.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Small and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Penfold and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Showalter, the last two families from Harrisburg, were Friday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dee Small, Marion.

Shoe Repair Man
Blind But Expert

FLINT, Mich. — (AP) — James Hainer was so sure he could become a shoe repair man that nine years ago he accepted a $100 bet to prove it. Hainer is blind.

Shortly after accepting the wager, Hainer got hold of some old shoe-repairing equipment with the aid of the Lions Club. After a few months of training in the operation and maintenance of the various machines, he started his business.

Hainer now can do all the operations in the shoe shop with the exception of dye and polish work. For that he calls on his sister, Mrs. Dora Robinson. He makes his home with her.

His work continually amazes everyone who comes into the store. Customers say the stitching work done by him is the equal of any skilled shoemaker with 20-20 vision.

The Prize is Death On the Highway

How Repulsive a Driver Are You?

REPULSIVE DRIVER NO. 1: The egotist thinks the world revolves around him. Cartoons are from AAA's "Sportsmanlike Driving."

Rate your own "accident proneness" by scoring yourself zero to five on the following habits:

- ( ) I boast of breaking traffic laws.
- ( ) I race with drivers on the highway.
- ( ) I'll break a traffic law on a dare.
- ( ) I demand the right-of-way whether I need it or not.
- ( ) I beat everyone away from the stop-light.
- ( ) I show my dust to smaller and older cars.

If you score yourself zero you're a good driver. Up to six points makes you a repulsive driver who'll be dead within six months.

Over 12 points means you should have been a dead repulsive driver six months ago and are just living on borrowed time.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Will you be "Mister Repulsive of the Road for 1955?"

It's ridiculously easy to get in on this great contest which was so popular in 1954.

Just observe the following simple rules, and if your mentality is warped in this direction improve from there:

1. Be the complete egotist. Cut in close after passing. Never signal when stopping. Park double. Use "pull" to fix a traffic ticket.
2. Be the show-off. Prove to everyone on the road how much horsepower your car has. Pass all possible cars on hills to prove how lucky you are. Go through red lights with a gay air of bravado.
3. Be over-emotional. Lack presence of mind in emergencies. Lose your temper with any driver who challenges your right to the middle of the road. Cut out traffic officers.

4. Be a rationalizer. Figure out how every other driver is wrong but you. Explain why all traffic signs are wrong. Tell yourself that speed limits are for the other guy, not you.

5. Never be thwarted. Get even with drivers who pass you by. Make pedestrians jump for safety. Beat a guy into a parking place which he found before you.

Beauty of this contest is that every conscientious entrant can be a winner. The prize, naturally, is glorious death on the road. Your family and any number of innocent by-standers might be prize-winners along with you. As a bonus you'll be immortally enshrined as a traffic statistic for 1955.

Last year there were 36,000 winners. Will we beat it this year? These characteristics which give a per-

TEMPER! TEMPER! Over-emotional drivers who lose their tempers lack presence of mind in emergencies, are accident prone.

Officers, Directors
Elected by NYC
Employees Credit Union

The N. Y. C. Employees Credit Union held its 15th annual meeting on Jan. 10 at 7 p. m. at the New York Central freight office.

The officers and directors for 1955 are:

J. E. Crabb, president; W. W. Wirth, vice president; Louis Gall Jr., secretary; B. O. Womack, treasurer; W. F. Applegate, director; Alonzo Reiner, director; George Smith, director; Walter Webb, director; M. R. Williams, director.

A dividend of four per cent was declared by the directors last year.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By
CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

It takes a bit longer at this time of the year for the motor of your car to warm up than it does in warmer weather, so it is a good idea to allow yourself more time and to wait for a considerably greater gap in traffic on a through street when you are about to cross that through street.

You have, undoubtedly, had the experience of trying to get your car moving quickly when the motor is cold, only to have it sputter and die, leaving you with the necessity of starting it all over again. That takes time, and even though it may be only a small amount of time, it could easily be enough to cause a serious crackup.

If your car should stall half-way across a through street, you would be a wide-open target for an accident. This would be especially true if the streets were slippery and cars approaching you on the through street could not gain the necessary traction to stop in time to avoid hitting you. Make sure you have enough time, don't try to dart across a through street when your car's motor is cold. You might find someone else's car in your lap.

A copy of the completely new "Rules of the Road" booklet will be sent to you free upon request. Write to CHARLES F. CARPENTIER, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois.

The ostrich, though unable to fly, is by no means helpless against its enemies. Its 12 ft. stride carries it along at a good forty miles an hour. This giant bird can sense danger from afar as it is over seven feet tall and has keen vision.

Egyptian Council Plans Area Wide Boy Scout Meeting

"Time is Running Out," is the theme chosen by the Egyptian Council, Boy Scouts, for the 1955 program of expansion. The time for boys to join and participate in the Boy Scout program is actually running out. When a boy is eight years old, he can become a Cub Scout. When he is eleven, he can become a Boy Scout, but if there are no organized troops in his town to join, he grows beyond the Scout age without the opportunity to join.

The psychologist, the physician, the judge, the traffic engineer, and the enforcement official have all been studying what it is in a person's make-up that gets him into traffic troubles. It is found that some drivers are much more likely than others to have accidents. They are called "accident-prone." Their wrong attitudes and their emotional weaknesses make them bad risks as drivers.

The book makes these recommendations on how to handle such people:

"1. Sort out accident-prone drivers and revoke their driving privileges until their weaknesses are corrected.

"2. Test drivers for certain mental and emotional weaknesses before they have accidents.

"3. Show individuals how to recognize and correct traits in themselves that cause accidents."

On the other side, AAA claims, if you're not the type to qualify for the "repulsive driver" contest, you probably possess the qualities usually found in top-notch drivers.

In that case you accept responsibility.

You have self-control.

You show good sportsmanship.

You display forethought.

You control your attention.

You show good judgment.

You have a good sense of humor.

Backing up their program of education in a united stand against juvenile delinquency, the Egyptian Council will have a "Citizens for Scouting" meeting in the Junior high school gymnasium, at Marion, on the evening of Tuesday, Jan. 18. The meeting, designed to inform the people of southern Illinois of the program of emphasis for 1955, is inviting key leaders from the 15 southernmost counties of the State, to attend.

Dr. George H. Hand, president of the Egyptian Council, says that it is the aim of the Council during 1955 to build the program of Scouting so that it will be more able to extend its services to every boy of Scout age in southern Illinois.

Complete Household Inventory Urged

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Keep a detailed list of all household possessions—just in case.

Mrs. Clara N. Leopold of the University of Nebraska home management department said a complete list is the best "proof of loss" for the insurance company, in case of a disaster striking the home.

She said most housewives would remember best possessions, such as a sofa, or range, but otherwise would forget such items as clothes, books, phonograph records and "a myriad of small items."
